

Student Action Plan Against Bullying

Designed for youth to complete with or without an adult

Bullying affects everyone and every student can play an important role in preventing bullying. That means YOU can take charge of what is happening around you! Use this plan to think through a difficult situation and take steps to change what is happening to you or someone else. Whether you are the target of bullying, a witness, or the person who bullies, this plan can help you think through potential responses and come up with next steps to help prevent the bullying.

What you can do

Become an advocate or self-advocate. An advocate helps others get what they need. A self-advocate communicates their own needs.

It's important to understand that being a self-advocate does not mean you need to take next steps on your own. Self-advocacy is about being a part of the process, expressing your opinion, and ensuring that you are comfortable with the action steps taken toward that solution.

How to use the Student Action Plan Against Bullying

1. Read through the examples on pages two and three of this document
2. Decide if you want to start this on your own or if you would like to involve an adult
Note: Even if you start this on your own, it's important to share with a trusted adult and provide them with information on the best way to support you. This is important because sometimes adults aren't aware that the bullying is happening, and many bullying situations won't get resolved until a caring adult is involved.
3. Complete the "My Personal Action Plan Against Bullying," on page four with your own experience as a target of bullying, a witness, or the person who is bullying

By completing this plan, you are taking action toward a solution.

What's next?

- ✓ If you haven't shared your plan with an adult you trust, now is the time
- ✓ Let the adult know how important it is to have their help and support
- ✓ Talk through your ideas together
- ✓ Decide which steps to take and who will help
- ✓ Write down your notes in your action plan

Example Plan #1:

Kyla is a 10-year-old girl with Down syndrome. A classmate is making fun of her speech.

Step 1: Describe your experience	Step 2: Reflect on your ideas	Step 3: Develop potential solutions
Think about the bullying you have experienced, seen, or even done yourself. Describe the situation, including where it happened, who was involved, what happened, and how it made you feel.	Then consider how that situation could be different. Include what you would like to see happen, what things could change, and what would help you feel more in control of the situation.	Next, think about the steps needed to make those changes happen. Consider what role you need to take, who would need to be involved, and what they would need to do.

Sometimes, when I talk, it can be hard to understand. When it happens, there is this kid named Jordan that imitates me, and he makes a big deal out of it. He exaggerates my words and then makes sure that all his friends hear it, and a lot of them laugh. It really hurts and makes me wish I didn't have to go to school.	I don't want to get anyone in trouble, I just want him to stop. It's hard when it feels like people are laughing at me because of something I can't control. I want to say something to him but it's not easy to do. I wish one of the other kids would stick up for me. Maybe I could talk with some of my friends and see if they would support me when this happens.	I am going to talk with my mom and ask her for ideas. I am going to ask my mom if we can go to my teacher together and let her know what's been happening. My friend Andrea is someone who is always at my side. I am going to ask Andrea if I can talk with her any time I'm feeling bad. When I feel ready, I want to prepare myself to say something to Jordan, but in the meantime I am going to remember that I have many people who care about me.

Example Plan #2:

Nate, a 14-year-old student, is tired of seeing his classmate, Sam, being harassed online through an anonymous account.

Step 1: Describe your experience	Step 2: Reflect on your ideas	Step 3: Develop potential solutions
Think about the bullying you have experienced, seen, or even done yourself. Describe the situation, including where it happened, who was involved, what happened, and how it made you feel. Someone at school created an anonymous social media account and keeps posting embarrassing pictures of Sam at lunch or between classes, turning them into memes. Other peers are liking the photos and the account now has a pretty large following.	I feel bad about what is happening to Sam, they must feel on edge all the time. I could reach out to Sam about how I can help and make sure they know they aren't alone. I think I know who is posting the photos, but if I say something, I need to make sure it's not going to make things worse. I could encourage others to do or say something to show support for Sam, too. No one deserves to be treated that way.	I should show my school counselor screenshots of the account and images and ask what the counselor thinks of my ideas. I could also ask if there is anything we can do in class to talk about how hurtful online bullying is. I will report the account and talk with Sam about other ways I can help. I think it's important to also speak with my other friends. Together, we could post positive comments for Sam or encourage other peers to stop sharing.
Next steps		Who is involved?

<input type="checkbox"/> Talk with my school counselor, share my ideas, and ask for their advice	My school counselor and me
<input type="checkbox"/> Encourage my school counselor to provide strategies for students on how to respond to cyberbullying	My school counselor, my peers, and me
